

Kalyn Siebert to Release New, Extendable VersaMAXX™ Trailer

Gatesville, TX – (October 9, 2018) – Premium heavy-duty trailer manufacturer Kalyn Siebert has announced production of the new VersaMAXX-EXT™ 50T HRG trailer. With the ability to extend from 48 feet to 53 feet instantly, this new trailer can be operated in all 50 states.

Designed to deliver coast-to-coast versatility, performance and strength, the VersaMAXX-EXT™ trailer can be maneuvered in confined spaces for low-profile, large transport and vehicle recovery in inner-city and metropolitan areas. Towing professionals can maintain safer recovery positions with lift axle capability that allows for a tighter turning radius.

VersaMAXX-EXT™ features include a 100,000-lb-capacity, an adjustable hydraulic removable gooseneck (HRG) and two 20,000-lb-capacity winches with wireless remotes that make loading by a single operator possible. Additionally, recessed quick connects and a retractable bridge allow for single-operator extension. Lower-profile work lights provide better clearance with the rear winch line. The trailer's 22-inch deck height meets the demands of low approach angles in loading and accommodates taller vehicles, while also providing six inches of ground clearance.

“With the addition of the VersaMAXX-EXT™ trailer to our product line-up, we can now provide a trailer for any equipment need coast to coast,” said Jake Radish, Kalyn Siebert President. “This trailer is Cal legal at 48 feet and has the ability to extend to 53 feet if necessary for single trip permitting. In addition, the VersaMAXX-EXT™ still offers the capacity, flexibility, maneuverability and ease of use our customers in transportation, towing and recovery markets require.”

The Kalyn Siebert VersaMAXX-EXT™ 50T HRG trailer will officially launch to the public during the American Towman Exposition, November 15-18, 2018, at the Baltimore Convention Center, Baltimore, MD, booth 1197.
