

Kalyn Siebert to Showcase VersaMAXX™ in Las Vegas

Gatesville, TX – (April 18, 2018) – Premium heavy-duty trailer manufacturer Kalyn Siebert has announced it will be showcasing its all-new VersaMAXX™ low-profile trailer designed specifically for large vehicle transport and recovery operations at the American Towman ShowPlace—Las Vegas, May 9-12, 2018, at the South Point Hotel & Casino, Booth 1230.

The VersaMAXX™ is designed for capacity, versatility, maneuverability and ease of use in metros and locations where low deck height and single-operator use are needed.

The specialized trailer features a 100,000-lb-capacity and an adjustable hydraulic removable gooseneck (HRG), along with two 20,000-lb-capacity winches with wireless remotes that make single-operator loading possible. Designed to meet the demands of low approach angles in loading and providing a low deck height to accommodate taller vehicles, the new VersaMAXX™ offers a low 22-inch deck height while still providing six inches of ground clearance.

“VersaMAXX™ is the result of listening to the needs of tow operators. It can safely and easily recover and transport large vehicles with a single operator, if necessary,” said Jake Radish, Kalyn Siebert President. “We’re excited to showcase the product here in Las Vegas at the American Towman ShowPlace.”

Because of its many features, VersaMAXX™ appeals to a range of operators transporting buses, construction equipment, fire and rescue equipment, class A motorhomes, trucks or any combination of the above.

According to Radish, “The response to creating VersaMAXX™ has been very strong among dealers and end-users. The Kalyn Siebert team will continue to bring its expertise and leading innovation to the towing industry, and we’re already working on another product to release later in the year.”
